

Holy Spirit School Excels in the Roselle Catholic STEM Competition – Again!

On Thursday, January 25th, Holy Spirit School entered two teams at the Roselle Catholic STEM Competition. The team of Morgan Miranda, Savanna Rodriguez, Marie Cajoux, and Sofia Varino were awarded third place in the rigorous completion. Their creation and execution of a parachuted egg drop from a set height was outstanding. The other HSS team – which competed successfully and honorably – was comprised of Russell Santa Cruz, Justin Pittman, Kayla Morales, and Christian Tatham.

Last year, HSS took first and second place in the STEM competition. This year's third place finish gives us the trifecta – and it just took us two years.

Congratulations to Mrs. Neuman who worked with the teams in preparing for the competition, and to all of the aforementioned students. We are quite proud of all of you.

Please follow the link below to see pics – courtesy of Mrs. Morales – of the STEM competition.

- Armand Lamberti

<https://simpleshare.samsungcloud.com/sms/1516926628071N6KkUd9>